

Coyote Love
60 Seaman Avenue, #5E
New York, NY 10034
917-796-4767
www.coyotelovemusic.com
coyotelove@verizon.net

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE**

OCT 5, 2010, NEW YORK NY - Authentic, NYC Style, Rock and Soul Band COYOTE LOVE plays their original music plus a healthy mix of hit songs at Plattekill Mountain's "Plattepalooza: Count Down to Winter" Festival this Saturday, October 9th at 2pm.

Later that night, at 10pm, the band will be hosting an after show party with WIOX Sports Broadcaster Chris Cook, at Roxbury's own T Bar Saloon on State Highway 30.

When and Where –

Sat Oct 9th

2pm – "Plattepalooza Count Down to Winter" Festival Plattekill Mountain
469 Plattekill Mountain Road
Roxbury, NY

And

10pm – T- Bar Saloon
50500 State Highway 30
Roxbury, NY

No stranger to the area, COYOTE LOVE'S leader and producer, Hank (Coyote) Wagner, a native New Yorker and city resident, has also lived on and off in Delhi, NY since 1981. "I'm a big fan of the swing in mindset I see in the area," says Hank. "There's more gift economy, more trading, more green tech everywhere, and the Roxbury area has all kinds of neat stuff going on. So when my buddy Chris Cook [Mr. Cook hosts the 10pm, "Monster Mash" sports show on Sundays at WIOX in Roxbury, and was Executive Producer on the 2009 band's debut CD] insisted that we start playing up here, it was a no-brainer. Especially in a town with a good, strong arts council [the Roxbury Arts Group]. And Plattekill is such a groovy, homey little lodge. They have a ski and bike swap going down as well. That is totally righteous."

When asked about the band's sound, their answer was "Beck, Led Zeppelin, Blind Melon, George Clinton, The Beatles, and Sly and the Family Stone all play a Birthday party for the Stone Temple Pilots, thrown by Queens of the Stone Age."

Coyote Love plays Sat Oct 9th, at 2pm at Plattekill Mountain's "Plattepalooza: Count Down to Winter" Festival. And later that night at 10pm, at T- Bar Saloon on State Highway 30 in Roxbury.

###